Dear Sir

It is my pleasant official duty, in accordance with a resolution of the Institute, to convey to you and to Lady Dawson, the thanks of the Council and members for the graceful and cordial courtesies extended to the visiting party at Montreal, on the 5th ultimo.

To this formal expression, permit me to add the utterance of my personal regret that imperative duties prevented me from sharing on that occasion the pleasure of my associates, and renewing my always delightful experience of intercourse with your family & yourself. Yours truly
