Sir William Dawson,

My dear sir,

The additional notes to your memoir came yesterday. I shall incorporate them with the other part. The memoirs will be taken up systematically as soon as I can get through with the Proceedings of the meeting, which will be off my hand by the 1st. of February. I have had the estimate made on your MS.; it has gone through the form of submission to a committee has been reported on favorably and will follow very shortly the Proceedings. Every paper as you well understand must go through a committee.

By the way, a rather prepossessing young man, a graduate of your University, ⁽¹⁸⁸⁸⁾ is in my Bible Class. His name is Ogilvy; I think we can make him very useful here, but I should like to know a little about him. If there should be a time when you have ten minutes to spare and do not know what to do with it, you may use it well by telling me something about him.

I am

Sincerely yours,

J. S. Dawson
