My Dear Sir William

I enclose a letter
for the Official Secretary or other representative of your University Council.

I have unfortunately
mistaken his name;
and do not know the name. Please address
the envelope to the right man.

I should have been
glad to be with you, in token of my hearty

Sympathy in the good work so long and
successfully carried
on by you & in spite of hindrances which
my own experience
makes familiar to me.

Otherwise I must
confess public dinners
are things I escape from whenever I
possibly can; — and
for that part, private dinners also. When a man gets to his

twenty fifth year,
with still the burden
of responsible daily
duties; a quiet evening
by his own fireside
is almost a necessity
for him.

With kindest greetings
to Lady Dawson

Faithfully Yours
Danie Wilson
