My Dear Sir:-

I enclose you a programme of the Parliament of Religions, on which we desire your suggestions. I also write to extend to you an earnest invitation to be present and to participate, and to write a paper on "How the Natural Sciences can give aid to the Science of Religion". This will come on the 9th day, Tuesday, September 19th. If you are not able to deliver such a paper in person, will you kindly prepare it and send it to me to be read at the Parliament? But we shall be exceedingly glad if you can be present and occupy thirty-five minutes in giving brief expression to your thoughts on this great theme.

Hoping to hear from you soon and favorably, I remain,

Yours cordially,

John Henry Barron.
