Dear Sir William Dawson

On examination of the excellent portraits you have sent I find that they are done by the expensive 'artotype' process no longer attempted in Canada and only persevered in for the benefit of the few who can afford to pay for it. The price asked cannot be called exorbitant, as an alternative there is the process by which Mr. Redpath's portrait was done for the College journal. That picture might possibly be improved upon and would certainly look much better on such paper as I enclose a sample of. We are prepared to ^{supply} do the best that can be done

on this line, as coming within our part of the work.

I send you herewith the proofs you kindly asked me to send with some tentative marks the result rather of a habit of altering than of any need.

Sincerely yours
J R Douglass

It has been remarked to me that it would be a great mistake to omit D-Conrich's
prayer which was spoken of as of greater beauty + interest
than the eulogium
pronounced by Dr
Mactear
