Dear Mr William Dawson.

I will see that your checks as to de Lambert's copies of your paper are attached to

Would he be a good person to read the paper should you not be coming to England after Easter?

The influenza is so prevalent that people avoid meetings, even the theatres feel it and hear that Irving's theatre "is the only one doing anything" as it was expressed to me "at the show at Olympia"

a person who must told us there were more performers than audience.

These considerations have induced us to put all the papers of lesser note before Easter

Professor Hull one of the Council ~~was~~ to ~~be~~ very kindly come to my rescue by ~~of~~ consenting to read the last paper for the author if I ~~could~~ did not get anyone else; and, on the day of the meeting two hours after I had heard that Mr McLeod had come to London to read it for me,

- Mr Hull came to the meeting of Council, wrapped up and rather hoarse "having caught a chill"; - When he heard I had got Mr McLeod, he attended to a little business, and then said "Now I shall go home" - he went home and to bed and was 5 days in bed. - I cannot help telling this of him, for his great kindness in coming when feeling so unwell is what very few would have done.
They present my compliments to Lady Darlson and Belsham, but they
