Dear Sir William Dawson,

Your kind gift of
"Eden Lost & Won"

came a few days since for which accept my best thanks - I had already a copy for I purchased it very soon after it came out & read it right through at once, for all you write I take the deepest interest in, and, as I have told you, it is a real joy to me that you dedicate ~~dedicate~~ your fresh learning to the upholding of God's Holy Word.

I hope you read the pages relating to yourself in "Garden in the Rock" and perhaps you know

glanced at my reasoning in reference to Joseph's

Pharaoh and Rameses II.

I think you were kind enough to say you would lend me Kellogg's lectures

I should be very pleased to study his reasoning. Mine you will see is based upon the idea that Moses saw the exact time of the actual sojourn in Egypt to be 430 years, which I think I prove to have been precisely those from Jacob's going down into Egypt until the crossing of the Red Sea. I do not think that this time can be reckoned from Abraham, because Moses distinctly calls it a "sojourn"

With regard to the famine also it would seem very unlikely that there should have been two long famines so near together as the reigns of Appepi and of Tothmes iii - whilst also we have the clear account of ^{one} ~~the~~ occurrence in Appepi's reign whilst no account of any famine in Tothmes' reign -

However I shall be delighted to study carefully whatever Dr. Kellor may have to say upon the matter - With kind regards -

Believe me ever
Yours sincerely
Samuel Davis
