My dear Sir William Dawson,

Your letter I find await-ing me on my return from a brief holiday. I am very glad to learn that you are remaining in this country for some time longer, and therefore it is possible

I may have the pleasure and privilege of seeing you again before you leave. I expect to be in Birkenhead at the end of this month.

In regard to your address at our Jubilee Conference, I may say that none of the addresses given in the afternoons are yet in type for the volume. The printer has, so far, been devoting himself to the mornings and evenings. I am sorry for this, as you would have liked to have had a few copies for use at the British Association meeting. If it should be possible still to get copies in time, I will take care that they are sent to you at the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool.

While writing, I take the opportunity of sending you a copy of my little paper on the history of the Alliance.

Believe me

My dear Sir William Dawson,

Yours very truly

A. Arnold
