

The Best Thought of the Best Minds.

Maynard

MAYNARD'S PRESS AGENCY,

(FORMERLY IRVING SYNDICATE),

REFERENCES:

HON. DORMAN B. EATON,

HON. THEODORE ROOSEVELT,

JOSIAH STRONG.

87 BIBLE HOUSE.

LA SALLE A. MAYNARD,

PROPRIETOR AND MANAGER.

New York, Oct. 17, 1896.

Sir J. W. Dawson, LL.D.,

My dear Sir,

I have received yours of October 9th. I am sorry that you cannot write ~~without~~ the article indicated, but I still hope that you may favor me with an article on some subject during the year 1897. I have two groups or series of articles to either of which I shall be glad to have you contribute. One is under the general heading ^{re} What the Bible Teaches Me ^{is} and the other "Side Lights on the Bible." You are free to take any special topic which will come under these heads. I shall be glad to know however what your special topic will be as soon as convenient. The price will be the same as I offered before. Hoping for an early and favorable reply, I remain,

Maynard

Yours very truly,

L. A. Maynard

I have received yours of October 28th. I am sorry that you cannot write without the article indicated but I still hope that you may favor me with an article on some subject during the year 1897. I have two groups or series of articles to either of which I shall be glad to have you contribute. One is under the general heading "What the Bible Teaches Me" and the other "Side Lights on the Bible." You are free to take any special topic

MCGILL UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES
ACC. NO.	1463
REF.	696