Dear Father,

I find Adams

has been getting a salary of $800, but there is a prospect, of which I suppose he is not yet aware, that it may be raised to $1000 or $1100 next July.

This is in connection with the transfer of the survey salaries to the Civil List, which change should leave about $60,000 available for explorations, museums & publications. I do not think that the change will result in any addition to my salary, the alterations being probably only such as to fit the various officers into the official Civil Service act scale of officials. It seems however that Mr Macpherson wishes to have it clearly understood who is to be responsible for the carrying on of business during Dr Selwyn's absence. He wishes to designate me & Mr Whitover for Museum though there may be some happily in passing over Belle summit in sunny date. Of course all this is quite private & I should be obliged if you would not repeat it even to Dr Hunt

With kind regards

Yours affectionately
 George
