and is now a pretty good reader & speller, Jessie has not yet gone to school. I intend to send her immediately after we get removed.
It is the house Mrs Robertson was in to which we are going, but it has all to be painted and papered. But we cannot get workmen they are all so busy at this season. The house we are be-ing to let we have got permission to remain for a few days, but we are in sad confusion.
Mr P has got a very complete work built behind Mr Thomas's shop, he bought the shop Mrs is in, the one next it, with the dwelling house above, four small houses behind, (these are all let), also what was the Mason's Lodge behind with a large garden which runs up the length of the pottery, this is where he has built his work.
part of the garden is also let to a Market gardener, they are fitting up the looms just now, and will be all removed in a few days.

Mother is getting very frail now, she is very much troubled with oppression at her chest with swelling and difficulty
