Dearest Margaret

I wrote a few hasty lines here as I find I have a chance to send them, though I have no time to write much.

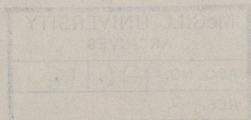

I arrived in this little though very old town yesterday afternoon, and gave them a lecture in the evening. The audience was not very large, one reason being that we could not get a good place to hold the meeting in. This place is very pretty and interesting on account of its antiquity, being the oldest settlement in N. America, and the scene of many contests.

between the French and English I am now getting into a much more pleasant country. I will write here this forenoon and go on to Bridgwater in the afternoon then I shall be till Tuesday

I am quite well, and so is John, and the weather is delightful. You must excuse this hurry note and give me the credit of wishing to hold such communication with my dear wife as I can. Give kisses for me to dear little George. I wish I could give some to you, or take them perhaps I should say. May God prosper you in all things, and grant that we may soon speak face to face your ever affectionate husband William

P.S. Please Post 30 copies of "Formas and hints to "Mr Landett clerk of commissioners of Schools Digby" if you have as many. If not send what you have
