

Dear Mama

Rock ferry September 6
Wednesday
Acc. 976

On counting up the time I find, almost to my astonishment that this is the ~~last~~ letter we will be able to write to you, unless we write by the Currier Line, for we mean to return by the next steamer, after this one. Yesterday at ten o'clock we started from Edinburgh, and arrived at Liverpool, about six, we then drove to Mr. Cross office, younger. Papa came back about one and after a lunch papa and anna started for Birmingham, In the afternoon, I was out for a drive with Mrs Crow to Berkeley Park, and back. Papa intends to send Anna back here in a few days, and I will likely then go up, for a day or so. On the 14th, at two o'clock, we intend to embark for home, and will likely be there about a week after this reaches you.

I remain your affectionate George
