Written to Miss Henkey

Dear Miss Hawkey

I am very sorry to have to enclose the accompanying note of introduction, as I had much wished to have used it as the means of bringing me into contact with your work.

When Dr. Hauser & I came to London Cap: Ogilton found out for me that you were out of town - since that time we have had a profusion of engagements & have no proper to have on Sunday or Wednesday so I fear there is little or no hope of my having the pleasure of knowing you or seeing anything of your work. Some knowledge of which might have proved serviceable on my return to Canada as we much need something of a similar character there.

Very sincerely yours

Henry art. A. G. Hancock
