Will you let us know what you pay for
us. if you succeed in getting Mr. Lums Ancliphone

My dear Mr. Dawson

We have heard the most satisfactory accounts of the Ancliphone, & are now very anxious to send it to Mr. Nelson, as quickly as possible - Will you be so very kind as to find out if Mr. Lums will let us have his if we can have it at once -

If not we will write to the Company, as we have their address.

would it give you more trouble to address it at once to Mrs.

Nelson, paying the carriage & anything that is to be paid, so that it may reach them, if possible, without charge - how please, dear Mrs. Dawson, if this is to increase your trouble, send it to us & let us have the bother, (I only use the word to avoid tautology) rather than you. But if the packing up to send it here, would do for sending it to England as I fancy it would, the only difference is putting on a few more stamps, sending it direct to England would avoid a needless delay.

Will you please consider it a bargain, that you are not to do so, unless it is just as easy as sending it to us & trusting to that I will give you Mr.

Nelson's address.

Mr. Nelson. Wm Nelson Esq.

I have been spending a few days with poor Mr. George Brown, here is a sadly changed home & I was very glad she cared to have me, she will see so few people.
Tell Rankin that we hope he is not forgetting his promised Christmas visit, as we are looking forward to it.

What news about Eva & B.
George, are they on the water now? Did Anna tell you of my plans for a sketching club, we had our first meeting last night & it was most successful.
We are just going to our Dorcas, so I must close hastily with love in which Mamma warmly unites Yours very affectionately Lyell Wilson
