My dear Mother,

In a note received from Rankine the other day, he tells me that you propose to relieve the fox-tail when at home. Now I fear that this will give you a great deal of trouble & the expense of having it done at a furrier cannot be very great & I would ask you to reconsider the idea if it has not yet been carried out.
I think too that the fur might very firmly he improved by having it cleared by a farmer, as it seemed to be to be in its natural state, & rather oily.

Yesterday I sent to Father's address a small tin of Salt Sulphur from Skeena R.
 B.C. It is going by freight train & may not reach you for a day or two, but you will know what it is when it does arrive. A second of the same kind I addressed to Dr Harrington & you might mention it to him or to Anna. If you can spare some of your lot you might

Give a sample William, I had not a word & brides have the impression that he & Florence do not particularly like Salt food.

I could not get down yesterday, but my two little birds rest two

Yours

George.
