Papa's letter to students very popular

Acc. 1443

Dearest Mother, & Papa,

There is no lack of material for a letter, but time has not held out - as one ^{of} have desired - Writing to Kankin & putting up a little parcel for him have taken the spare moments of the last day or so - & N. was being evidently within sight - makes one remember many things & people that wd otherwise be left out of account - for the present Florence seems to be getting on jamaicly, & the boy is decidedly the finest child she has had fat & strong & well made very like Victor, but certainly better looking than V. was at that age & stage - Unfortunately Miss Evans is not - reviewing as we wish - & the present course is not - to be defended on after the 20th so I fear Florence will have to get another - but since one is being inquired about but - I have not heard with what result - I have had Victor here since the event & he has gone home today - I find them uncommonly good obedient - lovable & sensible unfortunately a little inclined to fret - but I think a little gentleness & patience will overcome that - I induced him into that error - I don't think F. knows what she is talking about - when she calls him troublesome - & a week is too long for a child to put a unwarranted goodness

Carry is better & has been out several times & will hope be all right now - she has sent you the very pleasant letter she got from Mrs. Good-Smith - she did not like to do so as that lady evidently did not know of Papa & they argued herself unknown - but I told Carry I thought you would be glad to see the letter even with such a shocking defect - It is a complaint to feel that Cough with shortness to enjoy this little essay I separated from my children & my wife were with them the day a great success - It is that I should have been as it is - well very much done up & I can not be far from the end of it - I have a great deal of theological papers with me also - I have a of course - I have a tea case, you see I should well be sure particular - I have the same good letter received - I have returned - the others at least to me if you wish them as the ethnographic.

I hear that the Memorial for the 'today' letter to the students is very great - I have many have surgical papers with me - I have a great deal of pamphlets - as the book is being written & so much well hear fruit -

But I wish whom I met lately observed many pieces of his remembrance to good & paper - his son should never lose his Johnson & other noble his greatness of spirit attention to be conveyed He received the telegram from Savannah only one hour long at 4.9. - He received also the cotton profit rice price, both very interesting I the $5.00 also came up to hand for which many thanks - I can imagine to get the I shall find no difficulty in spending to great advantage by ratification

We are so glad that you both see I passed I intended with the partner the of the land - that you will continue to buy
