

Ottawa

Dec. 27. 93

My dear Mother,

On arrival
here last night, after a very tedious journey by that very slow train - I found a letter from Rankine which seems to have come by the same mail with yours. I think that Sam must have attacked wolver weight & his

Scrambling state of mind, for you will see that in writing I've be spells quite rationally. - I enclose his letter

Yours
Lungs.