Dearest Mother,

Your last letters sounded like the wain-ding up of the season, you look ahead, for my own part I try to avoid thinking of the weather till I need it. I still hope you may get some Eng-servants - but if not - I shall certainly find some one for you before you come out I don't quite know what will befall me yet - When Willie left she was keen to return to me - but she has not written to me - I may be waiting for her to do so. I w^d like her back if she is willing to do so. I have written to her telling her so, & offering to advance her her $25.00 - towards passy - if this I w^d give her & she w^d have to pay me back the 20.00 out of her wages - she may not-need so much, but to her or may have concluded not to come. I have sent her your address & asked her to write to you at once & say what she will or won't do.

Will you kindly send her the needed money & let me repay you. I w^d not-traceable ^{referred} you but for the uncertainty of the matter. Also if she is coming I w^d be obliged if you w^d cable to me if she is coming for I will have to arrange or cordially one word w^d do, & if I do not hear anything two weeks of writing this I will make other plans.
If I know she is coming, I c^d wait quite well till the end of September or till you come out. The night ^{has}
