9, SELBORNE TERRACE,

MANNINGHAM,

BRADFORD.

Nov. 21st. 1899:—

Dear, revered Lady Dawson,

Who so often made me feel that it was "home"
beside our beloved Teacher
Principal, Friend, Pattern, Father — what was he not to me, & to so many!

Ah yes, God is good, for he gave us that life, that man, that Leader.

And the loved one is no farther from God than he was ere the silence fell: so he is blessed, & happy. God saw well to make him so much:
God does not repent & undo all He did. The
dear soul is seeing God,

Enjoying God's ways, & God's mind, & God's words, just as he always did.

I may scarcely dare
to say to you, dearly loved one 'Be comforted': but I know that the Great Spirit says it.

And remain devotedly
Your Husband's pupil

Arch'd Duff.
