Dear Lady Dawson,

The sad news has just reached me of the death of your dear husband. We cannot mourn for him after his long & faithful & noble service, maintained in such vigour and freshness even to the end. But our hearts are sore for you, and we join in the warm prayers which must be rising for you, that you may be surtaimed and Comforted.

Mr. Williams was kind enough to write me on October 23rd, so it is not a month since I heard from him.
I am glad I kept his letter, & now I value it more than ever. I had intended replying, but did not think my next would be to you. Please do not think it at all necessary to reply. Our let me & my dear wife add to the many others our little tributes of respect & honor.
Yours in hope of eternal life
J. M. Gibson
