Lady's at Woodstock
still difficult with Rushville

Dearest Mother,

I received Clara's

note this morning & am glad that your first impressions of Woodstock are favorable. The weather here is fine & a little warmer. & I hope you are driving about the lovely country of Vermont. I had a nice long letter from Conrad who seems to be working into his duties, he reports most of the seniors to be all right, but that a few were sneaks & cowards & were responsible for all the bullying. Perhaps this will be a good lesson in showing him & Gray in a bad light.

Yesterday I could not get a minute to write, I am sorry as I fear you may not get this till Monday - & I fear a telegram might alarm you.

K. has been better on the whole we have had him in here several times for a talk, or tea, & he has been out doing little things, yesterday taking a Turkish bath which is a long operation & in the evening over to see the Hardmans - I had invited him in here, as the Kessels were with us - but it did not matter, as he was occupied & he came in about 10 P. & had ginger ale & cake, & was very pleasant -

Mr Kessel is wonderfully better Mrs K. says she can begin to live again now it is such a relief she had very bad times with him for several years - a nervous state very like K.'s -

I have just had a telephone from Dr Lafleur - & hurried K. down to answer it, & he is now going down to see papers - Bergers is there also, but I do not know whether he knows it or not.

but he had several minutes at the show & made his own arrangements will write again tomorrow
