

Friday

My dear Mother,

I am much obliged for your little parcel which I acted we yesterday. It was really not necessary, however, to send the books by mail.

I have heard very little from home lately, but trust that everything is now going on satisfactorily. You too I suppose were perfectly coming up here with Faster for the R.S.C.

Weeking, which will be very pleasant if weather is fine etc. But you must not think of making the trip if Father is not perfectly well up to it. I can write a cable him not to make the exertion if you consider it best to do so.

Send W., on my way down to the office this P.M. sorry always in a straw hat as if it were midsummer & indeed it feels very like it today.

Hope sends a newspaper from which the following is cut. I never met Mrs Recode but Father may & may be interested in knowing of her death.

Yours
George
