

MCGILL UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES
ACC. NO.	976/17
REF.	2

River Philip, Sabbath

Dearest Margaret

I arrived here safely yesterday afternoon and lectured in the evening.

The day was pleasant, but the road very rough.
To day I remain here in comfortable lodgings; and the day being wet I have staid in doors. The weather has now fairly broken, but it will likely clear up before I leave Amherst, if not sooner. I

McGILL UNIVERSITY
ARCHIVES
1917
REF. 54

Came to morning
ing for Amherst, distant 20 miles, and expect to arrive in time to see the schools. I shall remain all Tuesday in Amherst, and likely leave for Parrboro sometime on Wednesday

This letter will not reach you till Thursday morning; but owing to the unkind arrangement of the mails,

I cannot write any letter for that mail. If possible, I will send you a despatch from Ansbach by telegraph when I arrive.

I wish you dear Margaret a happy Sabbath, and the enjoyment of all peace comfort & happiness. Love and kisses to dear George, Kend sister & father & Mother. I am well, and should be thankful for you having had so fine weather and no

Accidents.

I have spent the day in reading, and conversing with a Universalist who happened to be here. The latter not very profitable, except that it makes me think how careful earnest and conscientious Christians should be, in these days when mis-believers and unbelievers are so zealous

Yours own loving William