My dearest M^{rs} Damon

It is, with great regret, and after looking at the matter from various points of view, that I have most unwillingly come to the conclusion, that I had better stay at home tonight. — I felt far from well last evening, & yesterday received a letter from my husband in which he dwelt most emphatically upon the necessity of keeping quiet. — I do not desire to have D^r. Buck's (who, in my secret heart, I think must be a most unfeeling creature, advice dilated, upon as the only one for me! — and therefore I shall do my best to keep quiet. — I do need not say, what extreme pleasure it would give, if at any moment you could find it convenient to come in & see me. ^{if but a moment.} It is therefore with great regret, dear Mr. Danson, that I relinquish the pleasant hope of seeing, & having some of that delightful conversation which I always remember, with you tonight. — Believe me dear Mr. Danson, &c, Very truly & gratefully Anna R. E. Hunt
