

[The page contains dense, illegible handwritten text in cursive script, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper. The text is written in dark ink on aged, yellowish paper.]

Father this summer drove with his going into England, and Cholera is very bad in Dublin at present, it has proved fatal in most cases, it is a fearful scourge the Guberial men do not seem to understand it altogether. We cannot be too thankful that none of our relatives have as yet been struck by it. You will remember of my Cousin George's Father who was to buy a great estate he died about two months ago, my Aunt now feels very lonely, he was a heavy charge to her for such a long time. and George has gone into Yorkshire to reside.

I do not remember if I have written to you since Mrs. Bay's death or if I mentioned it. but you will be very sorry to hear of it from young Maria she died a few days after having her baby of inflammation I am very sorry for Mrs. Hunter she seems still to feel it so keenly. The Misses Blakey have gone to St. Andrews to reside they have taken an excellent house and