My dear Mr. Dawson

I meant to have written to Eva herself; but my pen ran into your name, so I shall just speak to Eva through you - We have been talking about her promised visit a great deal, & are delighted to hear that she can be spared to us at once - will she come next week, any day or time is convenient for us, we will just treat her exactly as a member of our own family, & think the household will be a great gainer by her pleasant presence -

I have only time to write a very hasty note; but I wish to express to you & Eva that we are delighted to have her & expect great pleasure from her visit - We only hope that she may more than expect the same -

I wish she had been here last night, as we had the College Conversazine; but no doubt other things will turn up.

I have to finish a sketch for our Club-practice, go to my music lesson & then get ready for 70 students to-night, so I must not spend the time I should like to do in writing to you -

Mamma talks so much about you all, that I feel as if I had been in Montreal myself - with a great deal of love & hoping you will excuse this short business note

Believe me

Yours always lovingly
J. Sybel Wilton

Mamma says that from her experience, she recommends the night-train, she found it so unpleasant when it grew dark & other people went to bed, but Eva will have her own ideas
