My dear Lady Dawson

I wonder what you will think of my writing before even getting your answer to ask if you & Lea will defer your visit here.

I am back in bed again, & the Dr. says I have not got rid of the bronchitis & must not go out in such weather & not talk & so on.

So I fear Eva would only have an stupid time & I should not be able to go anywhere with her -

I hope that milder weather will soon come & I am sure to such dear old friends as you are, I need not be afraid of writing this seemingly most inhospitable note -

I have such a headache I can scarcely write

Yours lovingly
Sybil

Mother will write to you; but she too has a headache today -
