My dear Lady Dawson

I return the duster, hoping it may not be considered spoilt for that & fit for nothing else. I left a few threads at the end of the fringe for you to take out, in order to keep it from getting tossed & out of order.

No one here can suggest any other use for it than that of a Duster; but all agree it would be very nice for that.

I think of you so often & wish I could run in & ask your advice about so many things, so you may <sup>be</sup> glad I am not too near. It is so difficult to learn to do without some one to consult on the little home details. Kelly is good & kind; but it is rather like consulting myself!

I don't think I will add any news today, I am so tired & want to lie down before going out.

Love to Eva & all your circle most of all to yourself from your attached friend
