My dear Mrs. Dawson

Thank you indeed for your great interest & kind efforts about the Electrophone.
I have written, this morning to New York to ask for particulars & I will let you know the result, as soon as I hear. Of course it would be a pity to sacrifice, real use to appearance & yet I know that Mrs. Nelson would not like to wear anything that was ugly & the strings or wires leading to the ears, sound as if they would not look well.

However the picture will show us about that.

We are all so well, every day Mamma grows younger by several years, according to her friends verdict. On Friday she was reported to look 15 years younger & yesterday it was 20 years younger, so she will soon be a child again. What a good thing it is that nothing can really send us back in the race of life even for a day.

I for one should be very sorry to go over even this happy summer, it seems so much better to press on to what is coming.

We are all very busy, each in our own way & the days fly past marvellously quickly.

Please don't feel it necessary to answer my letters. It is so very kind of you to give so much of your time to finding out about the instrument, that I want to encroach upon it as little as possible -

I have been painting a little, Killy & I drove into the woods one day & brought home such treasures in the form of bright coloured fungi, leaves &c that I could not let them fade without trying to copy them -

With much love & warmest thanks from us all

Ever Believe me

Yours very affately
Sybil Wilson
