Montreal

Mamma received papers of the 24th - yes today, we have not got to day's letters yet.

Tell William that it rained last night, and is cloudy and warm today. Come down soon and bring Miss with you, it is so dull down here.
I have not had one letter from you yet.

Dear Anna

I thought that writing home would have been finished by yesterday's letters but mama it seems has some messages to send and has not time to write herself, therefore I again take up my pen (cil).

You may judge of the difference between Montreal and here, when I tell you that the lilacs are just coming into flower with us; you must not suppose that there are any such marks of civilization around this house it was someone in the village that gave Sophia a nice bunch.

You see while mama was thinking of her messages I employed myself in sketching this ladies slipper Rankine got it the other day. The flower is pink

We have had very fine weather down here all the time as yet, and I fancy a shade or two cooler than that at Montreal.

Messages.

Mary was told that five pounds of coffee were needed, see that it is got, and get at the coffee mills in St Gabriel street, at 1<sup>d</sup> per pound.

Bring down the bottle of cod liver oil. (Not for yourself you know)

I thought that there were well so many messages but it seems there ~~were~~ are only two, I hope you will not be disappointed.

If you think there is time ask William to get me 2<sup>d</sup> worth or so, of Pulverised Charcoal, at any druggists.

Another inconvenience here is the want of any gum or other sticky substance, perhaps you might bring some down.

A man came here this afternoon with a very large fish, which he was selling in pieces from door, to door; it must have been nearly six feet long when it was perfect, he (the man) said he caught it down near Isle Verte yesterday, he also said that it was good to eat, so we bought a piece, Dear knows how it will turn out.
Mama said ~~she~~ thought it was a Sturgeon.

Rankine and Eva send their love to all at home.

Hoping to see you all down here soon I believe me your affectionate brother George.
