LOCHIEL ARMS HOTEL
 BANAVIE,
 BY FORTWILLIAM.

August 18/880

My dear Anna,
 Camp was in a
 somewhat
 about 4 P.M. & is now
 E. being tired
 with the prospect of starting at 5:15 tomorrow morning.
 Tomorrow we will report to reach Glasgow in circumstances are favourable to go to the high via Loch Lomond & Strathclyde Iron works. Finding it with a view to starting on hand

(3)

I got away at last three quarters of eight on the 2nd of June. I reached London at 11.30. I stayed up again at 11.30 for the boat which sailed at 6.30. The trip through the Caledonian Canal is a beautiful one. The weather was most of the time clear & sunny. The mountains were clear & I was able to
 sketch a few of them with the camera. I was very much pleased with the result. I can send you some of the best of them. I spent a few pleasant days with Ella &

Hylands & Cumberland House - of my

of private dining my stopping in Edinburgh for at the same time. Swa + Moore both sorry to leave the Scotts. They seemed quite pleased to see us & though Mrs Scott still suffers from his late serious accident, & sits up only a few hours each day, he is glad to see some one to talk to. They live a beautiful place for which he pays £800 rent per annum & does not make farming pay. The house is an ancient tower or Rattle near the garden house, a place with a history of some interest & dating as a fortified spot & site of a kind from 1136 or thereabouts. It gives me a secure of fatigue to think that people have been growing corn & gardens & feeding it here for 700 years. The first road in the Edinburgh quarter

I have
 very much interested
 in
 the history
 of
 place
 tower
 garden
 house
 road
