Dear Anna,

I have not answered your pleasant letter received at Winnipeg, and as I have now returned we were to the old college, I take a little time to make good the omission.
I am very pleased to think that you and Bernard and the children have enjoyed

more than I shall need, more especially as I shall have to go to Quebec & receive Florence.

I think you need not have any scruples
about the next question, even though you may not be a disciple of Farnell & Co. Rowland shows a better spirit with reference to a little gift I gave him on his birthday,

P.S. Please say to Bernard that I find all the loss of Nature accumulated here, though I left directions to seed them on.
I shall now keep them till he returns. The garden has been attended to and there are and what he accepts, with the remarks that first given to him so would no doubt have been
squared on specimens, Museum, & some other unimportant matter. I think I have sent you paper on giving reports of the Minneapolis meeting, and shall hope to have at least a little time to talk of my experience when you return.
This seems to have been little summer here. The weather is quite cool, and the grapes like green peas, & showing no sign of promise ripening.

Yours to all, and believe me yours affectionately 1883 W. Allen
