

Anna
still in Toronto

Dearest Love,

I have just returned from the College games when I had to act as referee and really I have been so disgusted with the behaviour of some of the medical students that in future I shall try to avoid sports in which they take any part. Of course there are many gentlemen among them, but there are others who are simply blackguards.

Your mother promised to write and tell you about poor Mary Hunt's death. It is certainly very sad. Dr Hunt is going to take the remains to Norwich for burial there.
I called to see him last evening and was astonished at the small amount of feeling which he exhibited. But I should not judge him harshly, for he was a good brother to her while alive. He told me what I should not have suspected, that she was 47 years of age.
I did not suppose she was more than 40.

I find that I have got to go to Toronto after all and shall probably leave here on Monday or Sunday evening. I shall probably not be in Toronto for more than a day, but will of course see you dearest.

This is the night that I have to go to a concert with Eva & Miss Campbell & of course I am suffering frightfully with neuralgia.
 Boyer's cold is much better & he went out to day. He writes
 Yorkford B.

I expect to sell one of my St Catherine Street lots tomorrow - for a good price.
