AINSLIE & WEBSTER
MANAGERS

St. Augustine, Fla. Feb 5 1893

Dear Anna,

Since writing yesterday, we have received a letter from Mrs. Keyser, she has been detained by business, and does not know precisely when she may go south. If we can remain long enough in St. Augustine, she will meet us at Jacksonville en route to Pensacola. This leaves us free to stay or go as we like; and as the weather seems still cold to the north, we may stay here somewhat longer. I think there is free that Bernard might venture after receipt of this, to mail x open at ends and marked manuscript for printer,

In this place, some ~~more~~ steps of the ^{so as to keep me at work} biography, and if we leave before its arrival, I shall leave directions for forwarding. In any case letters may still be addressed here till further notice.

It was very warm on Friday, but Saturday and to-day we have ^{cool} cold with wind and rain, so we do not come to St. North for a few days.

I beg to send you a kind and loving Sunday greeting and hope both soul and body prosper with you and yours,

Mrs. Keyser by the way mentions that she has a new little garden at Peasacade,

Ever yours

J. M. Dawson
