Dearest Mother,

You must excuse me writing on this note-paper but Conrad was very urgent so I did. Miss Baker can skate a little, she used to go with the Lomer Children when she was with them she says she cannot ~~write~~ skate very well but she has got a pair of skates. Clare and I both agree that we would far rather have skating tickets than anything else Clare has a pair of skates but don't you remember that before we left the old house we could not find mine but Gordon Elsborn left his here last year and I think they would do.

I have or am making two very elaborate xmas presents one is for you and the other is for grandmama it is a board to use if you are in bed with places for note-paper pens, pencils ect I bought some green felt to make it with and some gold headed tacks and father got me a nice board for it. At kindergarten we have half an over sewing, some pasting patterns, shop keeping, men. arithmetic, writing dictation ect they are getting quite clever at men. arithmetic we give them marks Lois is nearly always head Bernard always loses by not coming he has hardly ever comes at all we are going to give them little prizes at xmas. I am very much behind hand with my xmas presents I have not finished one yet.

Was it Grandma that told you that over computers were not open for your writers to open all day and your barriers and the way, the murders in open at intervals as others do possible. I think mine says in the most satisfactory teacher have ever she makes the music as interesting for grandma that me writes her to you point to the computer names we went to the opening of it is up most helpful of the our way to be and add a little way with a bill bar going into a place with bar written on the door.

With very much love to you and to rice from. Ruth.
