

Trillium

May 11th 1898.

Dearest,

The little girls are writing and I have only time to scittle a few words. This is a downright wet day and ~~Ed~~ Bernard has remained at school for lunch. He went to Maplewood with Miss Baker yesterday afternoon and brought back quantities of Trilliums. He has been very good and pleasant.

Popsy is quite well again but of course has not gone out to-day.

The Dairy Furnace has already arrived and the old and experienced one has gone. The Dairy is not nearly so high as the other, so that the plastering can be done after it is in place.

The Micholsons left for the old country this morning and I should not be surprised if they remained there.

Even Thomas is to cross the bingy and will sail on Saturday.
Joseph is settled in his new quarters and seems to be very comfortable.
