I feel so deeply
for you all
dear Anne
in the great
loss you have
sustained
The death of
such a woman
as Sir William

The right
Arm is dear Lady Dawson. It must have been like
parting with a
portion of herself
They were so
united throughout
their long life
together. I always remember their
perfect devotion

To one another
What a delightful
man Mr William
was in three days
so kind, yet so
firm in his
opinions, compelling
the respect &
admiration of
even those who
differed from
him. & how
charitable he

was in (A) his judgment
of others. That was what I
associate more
than anything
with my remembrance of
him —

I hope his
grandsons

may grow
up in his
interests.

"Little" Jessie told me she met your boy Conrad.

The other night
I wish we had seen him but he had to leave.

The sooner every
of he comes up

even tell him
to be sure to
come to see us.

Jessie sends
you much
love & sympathy
Will you give
my love to dear
Lily Dawson.
Goodbye dear
Anna with

much love.

Effyri
