June 1902
from Clara arrived 1 min. past nine, but just in time.

So many people were sailing the we knew.
Mr. + Mrs. Percy + Lorraine, May Strathay, Mrs. Mc Millan, Miss Carrick, Miss Watherspoon, + last but not least, Muriel + her father.
Muriel came up to see me on Friday afternoon saying that it was just decided that she was to go over with her father the next day. The poor girl felt very badly at leaving Mrs. Christine with the baby still so weak. Coming home from the wharf our horse slipped on the asphalt fell, + broke the shaft. Mrs. was not nearly as upset as I would have expected but insisted on walking home from St.
James St. It was a long walk but but she rested all morning + seemed none the worse for it. Indeed I am sure you will wonder how she got through so much excitement. She certainly is tired, but does not seem really seriously the worse for it. The cool weather which still continues has been such a blessing. To me personally it is like a spring tonic, one can do so much more, when heat is out.

 Saturday afternoon, Miss Howard took Lois + Eva out to the Westmount Mountains, + then to have an ice cream, which was a great joy - Poppie went out with Agda + brought home some Polly-wogs - Ruth Evelyn, Alice + I spent the afternoon on the gallery. Conrad's examinations are really over, + he is so relieved, he says that he thinks he has got through in every thing, I do hope he has, but if he gets through in his French paper, I will look at him with great awe, it was so difficult. In his History paper some queer things were asked, such as a question about a man that lived in the 17th when the paper was on the 19th. This morning Conrad has gone to see if he can join the Mc Gill Tennis Club for two weeks - He wants to go down to Metis early.
