Dear Mr Harrington

As one of your dear husbands oldest acquaintances I take the liberty of writing you a few lines just to express my sympathy for you and your family in this sore bereavement which has come to you I have felt deeply interested in his case as my dear wife passed away

who certainly mentioned the two leading characteristics of his life - Conscience and all he did - kindness to all with whom he came in contact, These trials are hard to bear and only those who have passed through such experiences know what it means. You know to whom to look for comfort and He will strengthen and enable you to bear in Sarah I think it is where we are toed "Let your widows trust in me There is comfort in the thought - that our Living Heavenly Father makes no mistakes on June 3rd from the same trouble and another old friend Ed Hoeton, the disease is one which baffles the most competent medical skill, though dear Prof Harrington has been called away at a comparatively early age, his life's work was very full indeed and few very few of even those who are allotted to live the allotted time leave as much real research work of useful knowledge behind - I liked the few words from his Pastor this afternoon

And has called you husband to the higher service above "his servants shall serve him" I was so glad to see Lady Dawson looking so well May she be long spared to you and yours - With kindest regards and deepest sympathy I am with the greatest respect Yours faithfully

W Drysdale

To hear about the home above, For there doth many a dear one dwell In light and joy ineffable."
