Notes
Sept 1st

Edward,

Thanks

for yr. letter, though it was on official paper - It seems odd for you to be wondering off again so late in the season What I hope it will do you good dear - This Secretary sees us both religiously at our old home, I suppose you & almost fancy you self a free young bachelor, I can scarcely imagine myself a girl once more, for little Eric is a pretty constant reminder, not to mention another little body, who has been rather oppressive of late, but well - Sunday did not fail us & I saw a comfortable little drizzle descending, however after dinner it cleared up & became quite fine - It has been hot & close for two days the shore being the only cool place, I could not sleep last night it seemed so depressing however I fear I had the fidgets at any rate, when you get me back, you will find that I have taken to my night wandering again - I seem to get cramped with lying long in one position, I often wake to find a whole arm or leg fast asleep, & difficult to rouse.

However I had no intention of writing a medical summary of symptoms - yesterday I finished my Nat. History sketch wh. is the last of my Quaternary ones, I have still one of St. Andrew's to complete - That makes 10 sketches for the summer, besides one for yr. mother, one for mine & the Cretaceous restoration for papa.
