

28 Jermyn St. London. SW 23<sup>d</sup> April 1883

My Dear Sir

Your letter and its accompanying copy of your Life of Sir William Logan duly reached me. I delayed my thanks in the hope that I should be able to finish the reading of the book first.

So many interruptions however have hindered me that I am not yet at the end of the Love, but I will not long delay my thanks. I am much indebted to you for your kindness in sending me a copy of the book, and for the pleasure the reading of it has given me. It recalls some of my earliest and most cherished geological associations.

Sir William's brother Edmund was an old friend of my father's, & always took care to have me at his house when Sir William was in this country. Sir William was thus my first geological friend. Many an hour he has kindly spent with me over his maps, shewing where he had been working

and what had been the results. Your paper
recalls these old times.
So far as I have seen
the book is excellently done.

Again thanking you
for the pleasure the LIFE has given me

I am my dear Sir

Yours very truly
Archibald

B. J. Harrington &