Dear Father,

I expected to
write sooner to you.
A good many days
ago Edith wrote to you and told you
that we were going to bathe and we had a very nice battle

in the sea.

Yesterday we went to see the Reeford's
house Mother said

that the house
would have been much nicer if it had been turned round

the other way, there

was not one window
looking towards the sea
except one window
and this window was a bed room window.

The same day <sup>we</sup> went to get our washer

A woman which did not come her house
was near sanday bay

hill we saw one of her children which was an idiot, she was ten
years old, her fingers
were long and stringy
there were big lumps
on her wrists.

We got some salmon
