

Lillete Inlet
24th 1911

My dearly-Beloved,

Another wet-
day, this time being heavy squawing from the West, with gleams between, a blessing to the country if not to us - A failure to arrive on the part of the mail bag seems to make air friends afar off - but the longed-for cable has com-just - about 20 m - after Mrs Taylor had left for town, it said "yes, God bless you both" - which was a very nice message I think I must have delighted Miss Mc-Inler as well as the bird-bell who wears a very plain diamond ring in token of her estate - so every one can now understand their reluctance of the secret - the gas secret -

Mrs Frank is clearing rooms, as being made in the attic with all despatch - she brought back wardrobes & etc at "Kafalgar"!! where some alterations were going on - I always longed for some of their wardrobes - I wish I had known of the chance - We go on very well here - though the presence of so many children certainly complicated matters, there were 12 on the beach yesterday, of whom Clare was the eldest - at least our children will not be able to complain of being brought up as recluses - I hope you will get a copy of the High School prospectus as soon as it is out, there are several things I will need when you come so please give me notice before hand

Eric is galloping through Mexico & has finished the vol. of D'Aulny he brought - I wd like the last one for him to finish the whole & also Prescott's Hist. of Philip the II. which comes in well with his other reading - I will round up the period for him - If you see a paper copy of Henry Esmond (Thackeray) about I wd like it I brought it down from the attic for Eric to read - I have it - not here - I fancy it is in his room.

I am anxious to hear how Elysa goes on & if she makes matters at all comfortable, I almost wish I had got a coal oil stove - for Elysa will burn all the coal about I am sure

Tuesday -

Another cloudy dismal looking day, no settled fine weather for the two past weeks. I hope

It appears has had similar weather & the grass is not fair to grow, & at a rapid rate too - but always Waga looks very nice all letters always & seems to be taking matters rather easily, & comes over here often to see how we are getting on, & don't know how he likes the relations of his family - but many I see he says - & says she would have to ask him to stay there next time he comes down, he would not last - have a cheerful atmosphere about him. He now has business capably though the banking weather has not been abundant.

Wednesday - Mrs. Wagon, says that she & the wellborn all wish to go to them, & she & the took them to the station & thought the boys had I am a little sure that the steam had had back so soon I thought you were having a good opportunity for visiting a week before that. all this work seems to have had rather a value to the steam, he was so quick - the few days, he was here - we were not at his house choosing as I have - We are a comparatively ladies race, & can enjoy sweaters light & full time as usual gives out -

Approximately how I will be years
None
