July 18/94.

Dear Edmund,

I wrote yesterday
partly in answer to your last letter. We are much concerned that Anna
should be left alone with Lizzie. Please confer with her as to any possible useful person who might be company to her & help after you leave. I have written to Rankine, asking him to visit Anna if he is coming this way which he thought might be about end of this month.
Mamma thinks of Sibyl Wilson who is now at Mt Desert, Me.

Of the Shutes of a name to the mountains, she might go to Maplewood.

Mamma herself would willingly go, but I fear she is not strong enough to be of much use. Please think of this, and any expense attending it I shall gladly pay.

The children had a picnic yesterday at Mt Viney, and a very beautiful day. They are well.

Love and kind wishes to Anna and me.

I hope you will have some favourable change
to report before you leave, but it is a case in which we must trust in God,
for I fear our means
are of little avail.

Sincerely yours

Wm. D. Brown
