

1894

have put this in to 1897 - as it was mixed with the 1894

Bernard.

Lol been who that the an met at 14 Agatha was wonderful have written & also just at once I write more at length for Monday and we must not forget that you are the one most in need of letters being added to the list of the numerous cut off from your own individual belonging Eric went off last night with her and as they had presented her with $10.00, as a token because she would not take a larger sum than she wished out to take to supply supplies with a governess. - The trip will not be very expensive really among the lowly they give on the particulars of knowing the large number of letters. The weather is cool but I do hope the week will be of great service to the of our Co. I must Harrison had got far a walking. I have heard nothing of Gray lately.

He was detained in Washington so much longer than he expected, but I am hoping that he will be home before long.

Dr Duke seems to be going on very well. Do you see the Law and their papers or wd you like them sent to you. The last talk is about Jack Stanley King who at a sale at Mr Berke's jewellery store, last his hands with a clerk & smothered him under a curtain antique sword & wound a gash on his cheek. The offended party ordered Mr B to send £500. to the Hospital & to make himself responsible for Dr & consequences - you may imagine the fuss over it. It is too bad for a large connection to be involved in such a scandal.

I do hope you wont be long in London. Take a step I did not ask Mary Taylor her London address - she has called also Mrs & Miss Skellon - Mrs Blackadder & others - Mr & Mrs Ogden & Miss Finley & tomorrow
all love
