

Little Lutes

Jy. 8th / 96

Dear Love,

I did not manage to write yesterday, but we go on well, the baby looks splendid & certainly loses day by day, those nervous ways. He sleeps beautifully, by day & night & plays actively & with keen interest, but rarely in that unstrung way. I certainly have the impression that whatever was wrong in the little head, had its crisis at the time of the 2^d attack he came out of it relieved & has steadily improved ever since =

I hope you will soon see the end of this present fit of work - Mr M. D. ought to take his homeless son, viz, 21 - w^od make life much more pleasant for himself -

I fear we must well crawl up every day to bother you - Lois needs new reading books there are plenty in the house - but - as they are so cheap, it may be as well to buy one - it is the 3^d ^{2nd} ~~Constitution~~ Reader - B. also sh^d read it - She has read First bk^s Part I - & Part II - & any bookseller knows what is next - in the High school course that & the Bible portions I wish you w^d pass to me

Conrad has left Ohio in India in his book they ser-vially wanted to read it to him this summer -

Yesterday our Necker took Necker, son of Thomas & Victoria down to the boat when they caught several degrees - 5-9 at this largest - full of air. They also had a long time, some came over to dinner & this went out - fishing with him afterward. Well - caught nothing.
There was some fish.

Went - stop with some

I see the al Heales no II is what is full - down next for 5 - in the pen.
I went - also the nice Heales, & photo of you.
