Dearest Bernard -

We are nearly Krimauki, & then on with no backward was i till the other shore = The day lovely & not cold & the East-Wind gone - I tried not to retch till we get out of the river -

I'll tell you the berth is very narrow & rather hard, & I doubt if he could squeeze in beside me there, if he had ever so had a dream. -

I hope Con, will be successful, & wish the girls could have this fine air to redder their cheeks = there is not more snow to be seen now, than last year when we went down June 1st -

Thackeray would have liked to dispute with his keen sarcasms & one of the people at my table. I say very little, but listening very much, but sooner or later I shall have to say something. Mr Gibson looks very like a sheep, & acts accordingly.

he may be a parson, but his dress is unmi- clerical = heit he is uncoler I remember: I suddenly afraid of the keen tongue about him. You doctos is both is coming -

Much love passed - this day promise to be perfect = see later, I do be a little thoughtful I guess = I got the girl as soon as they be, they both never it - I did write to Laura about a week ago if you are visiting me has my love - Mr. Plummer are most loving & refreshing - I really must get up on deck before October time - all - with love - one year Anna
