

Little Notes

June 24th 1903

Dearest Bernard,

Aunt - 8.30

Bernard the long appeared with a telegram that he had got from Miss McVicker saying that Conrad had "got through in everything" & we had great rejoicings. B. & at once went over to inform J. M. & Aunt Florence - It was too late to send on to you but it was sent this morning early & I hope you got it from Joseph before lunch time & I am sure it would give you good heart to go on with your preparations The Lord has made good his promising not only in the Regatta of the M. M. C. but ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~trick~~ ^{trick} has his first independent steps in life. & he will realize better his own powers, & also the greatness of the difficulties, in the path of success - I will be glad to hear that he is looking fairly well after it all. He will think warm clothing de trop - if you do not see to it - but he would not think so if he were here today, a strong or East-wind than usual & the water thick with fog.

Louis & Keller are off golfing, B.S. & Anne have walked out to Astley's Lake, birds nesting. Waffie is hard at work at a new water mill.
& Annie & Clare are also trying golf.

Salmon has again been caught, & the vendor said they caught so many on account of the East Wind, so we must at least be grateful for that.

The Mc Craigs arrived this a.m. - I forgot to ask you about the golf money. I supposed you intended to see Mc C. in town as to it.

It is just as well that Mrs M. is not down for this weather I each day see have, must be one less for the average for the summer I have had a letter from Mrs Blake I she is coming down Saturday & that will pick up the baggage pretty well.

Some from all. I best wishes for the hiring, I the umbrella case, I can not imagine your being oppressed with heat.

Love to Mrs Weston & Miss Steele. I hope they have the best ever of this breezymorning cannot get her goods down the is cannot then this winter.

With all our loves your Anna
