

211 WEST 139TH STREET.

New York -

Dec. 14, 1898.

My dear Dr. Hammington,

I wish sincerely that I might be present with Mrs. Kemp at the approaching opening of the Macdonald building, which so commodiously and conveniently provides for Chemistry and Mining and for lines of work that you have seen develop under your own care for many years. I can well fancy the gratification that you must feel, and I share it the more from a warm personal regard for my friends Professors Adams and Porter, who go into the new quarters.

I have recently lost my father and Mrs. Kemp and I are obliged therefore to express our regrets -

With kindest regards to Mrs. Harrington -

Very sincerely yours

J. F. Kemp.
